IN THE LANGUAGE OF SHERMAN there is no— in Europe.

HEAVY RAINS are playing havoc with the crops in Oklahoma. Always too wet or too dry in Oklahoma.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC has been at a standstill in Tulsa owing to heavy rains. But Tulsa is still a live one.

AND NOW they are going to vote $100,000 bonds for sewage and boulevard improvement. Certainly we are going some.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS should teach our children the good common sense of patronizing race enterprises. Under existing conditions in this country the Negro must learn to support his own, that his own may in turn support him.

THE PICTURE OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT shown in "The Achievements of Tulsa" did not show it, but there are two wide-awake colored officers on the force, and while they did not seek it, many good things could have been said of them.

MILLIONS OF MEN are fighting in Europe and nine-tenths of them can not tell why they are fighting, except their rulers said "go to it," and like so many mad dogs they are doing their master's bidding, and slaying their fellow men. Is there no part for the Christian religion to play in this awful slaughter of human lives?

ACCORDING TO A STORY published in the World last Sunday there is a colored elevator boy in Tulsa who has marked talent as a cartoonist, and is unusually intelligent, but the redeeming traits of the boy is that "he does not think he is as good as white folks, nor any better than any other nigger."

At least so it appeared to the writer of the story who, it strikes us, is rather an amusing case, above par excellence as a damphool.

AT LAST Italy has joined the Allies against Austria and therefore against Germany. No one who has kept up with the situation is surprised at Italy's action. On the contrary they expected it. It is certainly no credit to Italy to enter this great war in the manner she did, which was as a stealthy march of conquest as is shown by her agreement with the other powers against Germany and Austria, not to accept any terms of separate peace which is virtually an agreement to fight the Germanic forces until England and France also gain their points of contention. This, in our opinion, makes a weak case for the Italian government.

However the Germans are gamely holding their own and somehow, we are in sympathy with her, because she seems to be the under dog of this conflict.

Pauls Valley Dots

Mrs. Annie Sanders is very sick.

We have a new family in our city. Mrs. Hanks is always glad to have you come to our city and live.

Mrs. Annie Moxey of Denison, Texas is visiting old friends.

Mrs. Elton Young has left the city.

Mrs. Ross of Oklahoma City is visiting her niece, Mrs. Davidson.

Mrs. Harry Johnson is much improved.

Mrs. Galloway daughter is improving.

Mrs. Patsy Griffin and daughter have gone to Wynnewood to spend a few days with her mother.

Rev. E. C. Thompson of Ardmore pastor of the Christian church here had a good crowd every night while during his revival he also preached public sermons every night. Paula Valley was drawn by his noble preaching.

Mr. A. J. Smitherman editor of the Tulsa Star met with us at the home of Mrs. A. Johnson in our sewing circle after an introduction he made a noble talk to the circle.

Amanda Johnson, Mrs. Babe Carroway of Oklahoma City is visiting her brother E. L. Leland. Girls and boys were quite a number that visited Prof. J. R. White's turn out. We hope they will come again. The sewing circle met with Mrs. Georgia Williams Friday afternoon. Miss Paul May Harris left a few days ago to join her aunt and cousin in Sulphur Oklahoma.

Prof. J. R. White, teacher of the city school here, had his exhibition Thursday night. It was indeed a grand affair and all the parents seemed delighted to see their children do so well. We hope to be able to retain him next term he made his departure Friday night for his home in Parnell.

Rev. R. N. Holt In California

Rev. R. N. Holt of Tulsa arrived in Los Angeles May 17 and writes that he is in the land of palms. Rev. Holt was met by a committee from the Ministerial Alliance and escorted to the tabernacle where he met nearly 1500 people awaiting his arrival.

May 17 he begins a series of sermons under the direction of the Ministerial Alliance, who has provided a tent adequate to accommodate 1600 persons. The Northern Baptist Convention is in session here this week and as this Convention is composed of both race Rev. Holt will have the honor of speaking for the Oklahoma Baptists.
